DONOR-ASSISTED FERTILITY CARE

IVF Donor Programs in Pune

Understanding donor support, fertility preservation, and embryo donation pathways.

Providing comprehensive gamete banking, strict donor screening, confidential matching, and personalized clinical guidance.

What Are IVF Donor Programs?

Donated Reproductive Material

IVF donor programs utilize screened eggs, sperm, or embryos to facilitate assisted reproduction.

Designed for individuals and couples requiring additional biological support due to medical, genetic, or age-related factors.

Core Donor & Banking Services:

Egg Donor Programs

Screened donor eggs for maternal or ovarian factors.

Sperm Donor Programs

Screened donor sperm for male factor infertility.

Embryo Donation

Donated embryos for non-gamete conception pathways.

Fertility Preservation & Banking

Sperm, egg, and embryo cryo-banking facilities.

Treatment selection is determined after clinical evaluation and fertility consultation.

Egg, Sperm & Embryo Donation

Tailored donor-assisted pathways designed for specific biological requirements.

Egg Donor Program

Provides access to thoroughly screened egg donors.

- For diminished ovarian reserve
- For maternal age considerations
- Strict medical & genetic screening

Sperm Donor Program

Provides donor sperm following standardized protocols.

- For severe male factor infertility
- Cryopreserved & quarantined sample
- Comprehensive health evaluation

Embryo Donation

Uses donated embryos as a complete treatment pathway.

- When both gametes are unavailable
- Ethical & confidential transfer
- Individualized protocol planning
